DOBSON PRESIDENT

The President

The Candidates for Election

During the last week the number of posters exhibited around the campus has been a reflection of the enthusiasm entertained by the campaign managers. On Thursday, February 23rd, at the Student's Society meeting Earle Dobson was elected President for next year "by acclamation". At the same meeting the candidates gave short speeches.

After his election Earle made the following statement: "I am very pleased with the response which the candidates have shown in this election, and I am looking forward with enthusiasm and anticipation to the year ahead as President of your Student's Council."

Elections took place on Wednesday, February 5th.

EDITORIAL

A change in government is a milestone in any democratic society and we of the Freshman edition of the Failt-Ye Times feel honoured that we have the opportunity of reporting on the achievements of the past executive and to predict the things to come under the new administration.

Election is, by convention a time for reminiscence and criticism and when we look back we find that many incidents arise in our minds which may be criticized. However, if we were to reconstruct the situation as it happened we would undoubtedly realize that the steps taken were in the best interests of all concerned.

Complaints are inevitable in an institution of this size and anyone accustomed to residence life will realize that complaining is an integral part of life. It does not generally arise from true grievance but usually from boredom and self-discontent.

In the field of prediction we feel that the less said the safer will be our stand in the event that actions which are contrary to our predictions arise. Clairvoyance has had a history of misfortune and it is not the aim of the editor to be incriminated in breach of promise.

We will venture to predict, however, that with so capable an Executive the students of Mac can look forward to the best year yet in the history of the college. We therefore wish the best of luck to the Students' Council of '58-'59 and extend the highest compliments to the one of '57-'58.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

The Editor,
Failt-Ye Times.

Dear Sir:-

I feel attention should be drawn to the dangerous practice of certain local children who persist in hanging on to the bumpers of cars travelling in and out of the campus.

Not only is this habit disconcerting to the motorists, especially when the roads are slippery, but it is also extremely dangerous and, should the children become injured whilst engaging in this generally nocturnal "sport", the consequences would undoubtedly be unfavourable for the driver involved.

Could not some action be taken on the part of the college authorities responsible for patrolling areas such as the gates, to prevent further occurrences of this nature?

Yours truly,
"A Campus Motorist".

The Editor Failt-Ye Times,
Macdonald College, Que.

Dear Sir:-

I would like to bring to the attention of the students here at Mac that some of the advertising for the elections is very crude, and I am certain that quite often the candidates are unaware of the campaign slogans that certain of their male "friends" have placed in the lavatories, etc around the campus.

I think that these campaign notices are more detrimental to the candidate's character than influential. It is obvious that either the candidate does not care about winning the election or else is not responsible enough to hold down any executive position, if such things are allowed to pass his or her campaign manager.

I am enclosing an original copy of this campaign notice which should be sufficient to convince the editor of the necessity of printing this letter.

Yours truly,

G.H.

Dear Sir:-

I feel that the former situation of the Stewart Room, commonly called the "Passion Pit" and of the Foyer or "Reviewing Stand" has somewhat improved. This may be due to the warnings given a short time ago. However, I do not believe that the behaviour of those frequenting these places is up to what it should be. There is definitely still room for improvement.

Recently a certain group seemed displeased by the fact that the girls do not "flew" through the Foyer. They could see no reason and in an effort to find out why they called a group of girls in and put them through an inquisition. Possibly they now know that it was their behaviour and remarks that caused some people to dread passing through this part of the building.

I would like to bring to the attention of the students that such "reviewing" notices and comments make a bad impression on guests visiting the college. Someday an unsuspecting visitor together with someone guilty of this offence may be embarrassed.

Until such a time as students learn to behave themselves like students will be looked down upon. They are supposed to act as adults or as persons who are old enough and responsible enough to "govern themselves accordingly". The conduct of our generation certainly can be juvenile and students must prove that they are capable people who know how to act in public places.

T.M.F.

REVOLUTIONISTS ?

March was brought in like a lion last Saturday afternoon when the students' Association nearly filled the Assembly Hall to discuss what actions were to be taken in the strike which was called by our parent university and five others together with their affiliated colleges. The strike was provoked by Premier Duplessis refusing to grant an interview to the universities' student representatives who wished to discuss the educational situation in Quebec.

While awaiting the arrival of the McGill representative, the chairman, Eric Samuels, conducted a discussion from the floor and vaguely outlined Mac's position in the action. After approximately one and a half hours of discussion only 67 people were satisfied that they were sufficiently informed of the situation that they could cast a vote in the matter. The majority of the meeting, 103, decided to await the arrival of the McGill Students' Council Vice-President.

Upon his arrival he outlined the reasons for the strike and exactly informed us of the part it was to play in the situation.

The reason for the strike was not the Premier's refusal to accept Federal grants as was the popular opinion, but rather called due to Mr. Duplessis' refusal to discuss the content of the brief outlining the problems of Quebec education. He further informed us that retaliations would not be enforced by the professors or administration.

After the Vice-President's concise reports on the affair the meeting was sufficiently convinced of the government's injustice towards Quebec educational institutions that they voted all but one in favour of a strike action.

Eric Samuels then had a motion prepared which we quote:

"Resolved that all students on the Macdonald College Campus refrain from attending lectures on Thursday, March 6, 1958 in the support of the decision taken by six major universities in the Province of Quebec as a protest against the stand taken by Premier Duplessis with respect to the brief submitted to him by the universities concerning the status of education in Quebec."

He furthermore suggested that a popularity poll be taken on Monday the results of which showed that the majority of the students of the college were in favour of a strike.

ONE MAN'S OPINION

by A. Fleetwood-Wilson

"WE ARE ALL DRESSED-UP SAVAGES"

We, as human beings, are constantly vexed by two savage lusts: greed, and envy, and these are the direct cause of our instability. Perhaps the most powerful is greed; it is the "root of all evil:" lingering, penetrating, and ready to strike like a vulture following a dying tiger; it can overpower all but the strongest resistance and attack at the very heart of goodness. Sometimes we fall a victim to greed and deep inside our human nature a savage instinct is awakened; survival of the fittest, or in modern usage, survival of the richest.

Greed and envy go hand in hand, but envy is a more wily character. Without envy we might have world peace and universal contentment; without this hazard there might never have been a Flood, a Revolution, a Bomb. Envy has created havoc on earth but it is a basic and primeval instinct which we have inherited from our forefathers of the dark ages, fought with submissive indifference and succumbed to with unhappy resignation. If we examine ourselves honestly we may see that greed and envy have dominated our lives from the moment we began to formulate our ideal. Our characters are moulded around those of our parents and so the savage instincts of old have been handed down from parent to offspring. We live then in a world where greed and envy are rife; but they are submerged beneath our superficial goodwill.

Sometimes our superficialities dissolve under strain; strains of temptation, hunger, isolation and pain. It is then that the instability of our human nature is exhibited in a terrifying form. We see the characters of our companions rot; the fangs of greed and envy sting our friendships and corrupt our reason. Here the fierce primitive instincts are displayed with all the nonchalance of savage rites. Just as Siegmund Freud found a sexual motive for every day activities, I believe that the motive is greed and envy. Our whole society is dominated by these basically savage instincts and we are the "dressed-up Savages" of modern civilization.

HOME ECONOMICS CLUB

The Home Economics Club meeting was held Thursday, March 6, in the Stewart Room. Miss Alice Grant was the guest speaker from the Education Department of the Canadian Spool Cotton Company. Miss Grant gave a very interesting and informative talk. Refreshments were served. Following her speech the meeting was adjourned.

NEWMAN CLUB NEWS

During last week's meeting, Dr. A. Limonard gave a short lecture on "The Catholic View on Labour and Capital". The discussion which took place afterwards turned out to be both interesting and lively. When the meeting was adjourned at eight o'clock, it was suggested to devote a few more meetings to the same subject.

DRAMA CLUB

"Blue Stockings", by Ruth Sergel, is the one act play which the Drama group plans to present early in April. The cast for the play, five women and two men, has been temporarily selected and rehearsals will begin after practice teaching. The two male parts, one, a lawyer in his fifties, the other, a frontier man and "old-timer", are still open since, as usual, there has been difficulty in finding two willing and able men. Anyone who is interested in acting or working on the production of the play is asked to contact Wendy Little.

A gay French atmosphere of can-can girls, side walk cafés and poodles set the scenes for last Saturday night's French Frolic. This was held in the Women's Gymnasium. A few traces of french taste in costume were noted-- a beret, black sheath, long beads, hair over one eye, etc. Fraser Farmer and his orchestra supplied the music and mood for dancing. During intermission refreshments were served in the Stewart Room. The dancing was then resumed until 11:45 p.m. Those who attended all enjoyed themselves.

On Wednesday night the 2nd of April a variety revue will be put on in the Assembly Hall, by all the faculties here at Mac. Practises have been going on for quite some time under the direction of Dr. Hanson, of the Institute of Education.

There will be a demonstration put on by the Phys. Eds. students. The Glee Club will be appearing to sing Ave Maria, in five part harmony, as well as a couple of Negro spirituals. The Fine Arts Dept. will be putting on a Revue of replicas of Ancient Masks representing different peoples. There will also be a few vocal and instrumental solos.

WEST INDIAN PARTY

Last Saturday night a party was held at the Red Barn for the West Indian Students and their friends. This party was to honour the Federation of the British West Indian Islands.

A most joyous time was had by all who danced to the festive music of the Calypso band, from here at Mac, as well as records. A vote of thanks should be extended to the committee and all those who made this party so enjoyable.

The Lit and Deb awards are as follows:

GOLD AWARDS — for Outstanding Services.

G. Beckford, Allan Palmer, Ray Smith, Wendy Little.

Silver Awards - for Significant Services
Beth Hannah.

Bronze Awards- for Praiseworthy Services
Margie Adams, Zehava Malus, Colin Nelson, Campbell Taylor, Freda Vivian.

Ray Simsers reported that Dutch Week did not have too active a participation but the idea seemed to be well liked. Both the film "Jailhouse Rock" and the dance on Friday night were financial successes. A net profit of about forty dollars should be realized for Dutch Week.

Dick Layne, chairman of the Interclass Debates, reported that the debate between the Seniors and Post Grads scheduled for February 26, would be taking place Friday the 7th of March. The first of the semi finals, between the Frosh and Teachers, would be taking place Wednesday the 5th of March. The resolution allotted was, "Resolved that Sports should be De-emphized at Mac".

DUTCH WEEK

As a sequence to Sadie Hawkins Week, the Lit and Deb Society introduced "Dutch Week" to Mac. The accepted social standards were banished, for both boys and girls paid for their own entertainment.

Much merriment occurred at meal times when milk was served on alternate days by boys and girls. A few incidents occurred at meal times. One pickled Salamander was found, by a freshettes, floating in a cool refreshing glass of water --- a gift from a thoughtful Junior. The clannish class of '60, the Sophs decided that Friday noon was the perfect time for them to congregate in the dining room ---- the poor Dips suffered.

Bob Powers advertised for the Elvis Presley movie "Jailhouse Rock", which was shown on Wednesday night, by singing in the Stewart Room.

The finale of Dutch Week was the Sock Hop on Friday night. During the intermission John Van Pelt and his "Dutch" partner entertained with a dutch dance.

A friendly and happy atmosphere was created by "Let's go Dutch" for those who participated in the week's activities. Participation was generally poor, although the idea was thought by many to be very good. It is hoped that next year more people will join in the fun and have a ball going "Dutch".

STUDENTS' COUNCIL NEWS

Tuesday, February 25, 1958

The meeting was called to order by Eric Samuels and the minutes were read. A special committee had been set up to investigate the regulations concerning liquor on the campus. It was recommended that wine and sherry be served at college banquets, but due to inadequate facilities liquor should not be sold at any other functions.

The awards made by the Literary and Debating Society, Students' Council and Publications Executive were standardized by another committee under the direction of Earle Dobson.

To alleviate the situation of grape-throwing in the dining room it was suggested to Miss Stewart that they no longer be served.

It was decided that the public address system use should be left to the discretion of those using it and that advertising could be done between 12:15 and 1:00 p.m., and 5:30 and 6:00 p.m.

Money was requested for the Junior Prom and a budget outline of expenditures was submitted.

There was no further business to be discussed so the meeting was adjourned.

Tuesday, March 4, 1958, the following points were discussed:

Minutes of Saturday's special meeting.

Mention was made of a twenty-four hour telephone answering service.

Recommendations to be made on lectures on Humanities.

The distribution of printed matter on the college strike action.

It was suggested that class presidents be asked to get volunteers for picketing of classrooms.

An amendment to the Macdonald College Royal Constitution was not accepted. It concerned whether or not the Royal should become independent of the Students' Council.

An amendment was made in the Women's Athletic Association concerning inter-class sport rules.

Freshman reception, orientation and initiation improvements were suggested.

As no further business arose the meeting was adjourned.

THE CURLING CLUB

The quarter and semi-final playoffs took place last Sunday and this Sunday is the day of the finals. A.R. Baker and John Allan are in the final round.

In the consolation round John Brydon defeated Mac Edwards to put himself in the final consolation draw.

This year's club has been considered the best yet and the forty-eight players who comprised the twelve teams in the Bonspiel showed a keen interest in the sport. We hope that the club next year will meet with the same success as it enjoyed this season.

THE PHILOSOPHY OF LIFE

11.

Did it ever occur to you that a man's life is full of crosses and temptations? He comes into this world without his consent and goes out against his will, and the trip between is exceedingly rocky. The rule of contrary is one of the features of this trip. When he is big the little girls kiss him. If he is poor, he is a bad manager; if he is rich, he is dishonest. If he needs credit, he can't get it; if he is prosperous, everyone wants to do him a favour. If he is in politics, it is for graft; if he is out of politics, he is no good to the country. If he doesn't give to charity he is a hypocrite; if he takes no interest in religion, he is a hardened one, he is coldblooded. If he dies young, there was a great future for him; if he lives to an old age, he missed his calling.

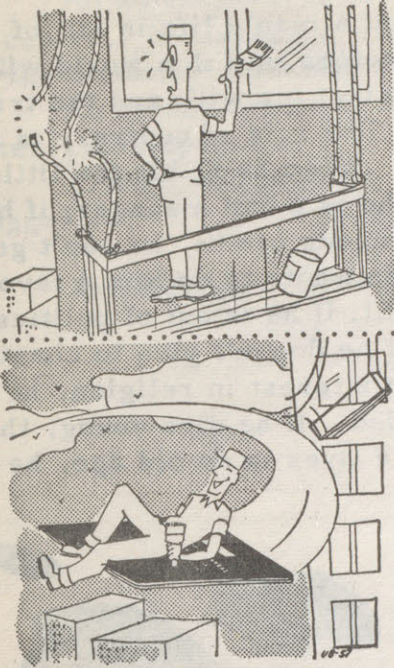

If you save money, you're a grouch
If you spend it, you're a loafer,
If you can get it, you're a grafter
If you don't get it, you're a bum
So, what the Hell's the use.

To Prof. Henneberry -

Sing a song of sulphide,
A beaker full of lime,
Four and twenty test tubes,
Breaking all the time;
When the cork is taken out
Fumes begin to reek-----
Isn't that an awful mess
For Monday of each week?

Interclass Swimming

The swim meet was won by the Juniors with a large lead over the second place Sophs. Dick Layne as the aggregate champion gained 11 points for the victorious Junior team. M. Johnson came second with ten points to help put the winning team far in advance.

One record was broken in this meet; that being the 200 yard free style relay. This race was won by the Soph team comprised of F. Guibert, B. Mick, M. Barnard and R. Pogue. They clipped 2.4 seconds off the previous record of 2 minutes 2.4 seconds set by the class of '56 in 1954.

Interclass Hockey

With five scheduled games left in the series the Juniors and Seniors are tied for top place with 12 points apiece.

The results of last week's games were:

Teachers	5	Frosh	1
Frosh		Dips (won by default)
Dips	4	Seniors	3
Sophs	6	Teachers	3
Juniors	2	Seniors	1

Interclass Basketball Playoffs

The Sophs won the first game of a two game total point series against the Seniors 41-18 in the fight for the A division championship.

Final Standings "A" Division

	Won	Lost	Points
Seniors	5	0	10
Juniors	3	2	6
Sophs	3	2	6
Frosh	2	3	4
Teachers	2	3	4
Dips	0	5	0

In the "B" semi-finals the two Junior teams will play off for the right to meet the Sophs in the finals.

Final Standings "B" Division

WOMEN'S SPORTS

"MAC TRIUMPHS OVER MCGILL AGAIN"

Extramural Meet

Macdonald won all events in last Wednesday's extramural meet held here at Mac.

The winners of Macdonald's interclass sports played the winners of McGill's interclass sports in swimming, hockey, basketball, badminton and volleyball.

Congratulations teams!

Intercollegiate Swim Meet

On Saturday, February 22, the women's swim team, managed by Carol Shetler and coached by Joyce Luke, went to Queen's University for an invitation swim meet, which they lost by a slim margin of two points.

Swimming for Mac were Nancy Reid, Mary Lawson, Liz Watson, Carol Shetler, Liz Meade and Pat Orser.

In addition to the races there was an exhibition of diving by Phyllis Clarke and Judy Reid of Queens, and two synchronized swimming numbers also done by members of Queens.

Intercollegiate Basketball

SENIOR: The senior team was away at Ottawa on February 28 and March 1, for an intercollegiate basketball tournament held at Carleton College. Macdonald lost their first game to McMaster University by a close score of 39-37, then beat O.A.C. on the following day 33 to 28. The high scorer was Ann Hewitt.

JUNIOR The junior team played Marionapolis at "Mac" on February 27 and won 21-16. They will play again on Thursday March 6 at McGill against Montreal West Y.

Interclass Badminton

Last week saw the finals of the two badminton tournaments. The beginners tournament was won by Heather Lang, and the interclass singles was won by Pat Espley.

The annual Athletics Award Banquet will be held on March 20, with Tex Coulter of the Montreal Alouettes as guest speaker.

THE MACDONALD COLLEGE WAR MEMORIAL

The impressive portals into the Main Library have a significance far deeper than a memory of those who died in the last war in defence of their country. They are also a remembrance of the generosity and appreciation which the students of Macdonald showed early in 1945.

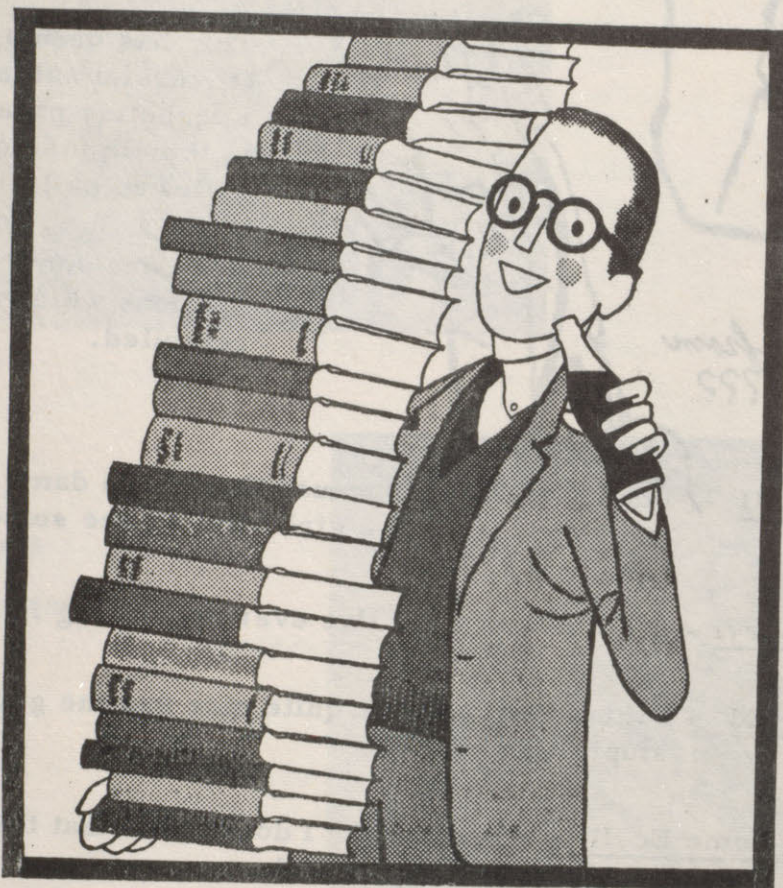

1945 was also the year of the building of the Sir Arthur Currie Memorial gymnasium on the McGill campus. All those in any way affiliated with McGill were invited to contribute but Macdonald College students felt that a permanent memorial should also be set up on this campus.

The college decided that an expensive "physical" memorial should not be erected but rather the present marble library entrance and a Second Book of Remembrance. The remainder of the money so generously contributed was set aside to bring to the staff and students some prominent speaker on a topic "which would inspire everyone to do his part in the maintenance of freedom, tolerance, and the improvement of human relationships everywhere". This memorial was decided upon as the committee decided that it was the duty of such a monument to continually impress future generations.

The first War Memorial Address was given in February 1947 and since then eleven speakers have reminded the students of this college of their duties and obligations in the preservation of peace and good will. Among these eminent people have been Hon. Vincent Massey, Rt. Hon. Louis St. Laurent and Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt.

The speaker this year will be Dr. Gerald White-Johnson who we know will deliver an address which will remind us "Lest we Forget".

"What is your opinion of Sack dresses?"

This has been a somewhat controversial subject since the Freshettes paraded the latest in female fashion through these hallowed halls.

Here are some of the candid opinions which our reporters compiled.

John Eaton, Agr. III - I don't like them because there's no damn shape to them, and when I look at a girl I like to see some shape.

Don Timmins, Agr. I - It's the first time I've ever seen a bag in a sack.

Pat Orser, Phys. Ed. - I think that they are quite nice and the guys are quite stupid about them.

Veda Lightbody, Home Ec. II - I like them. I don't think that they are too smart but they look nice enough.

Ken Robinson, Agr. IV - I like them. They look nice on a slender girl as it gives them a streamlined look.

Earle Dobson, Agr. III - What is it?

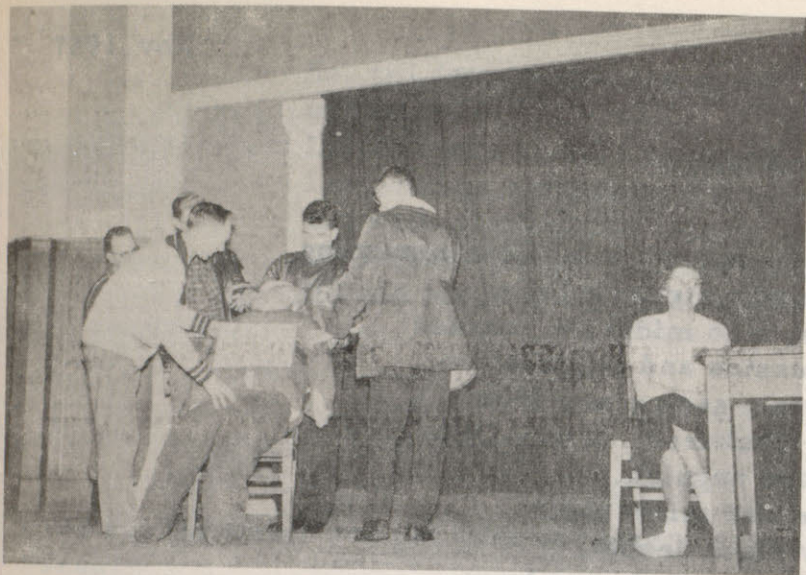

Gale Thomas, Home Ec. I - I think they are tremendous.

George Peart, Agr. I - They look terrible on most of them but on a few they look alright.

Wendel Cass, Dip II - No much.

Liz Meade, Home Ec. I - They are comfortable and easy to wear and it is a lot fun to see what people say when you wear them.

Conclusion: The girls think they are fine but the boys don't.

THE ETERNAL SEARCH

A tear has fallen,
And what of it?

Icy winds howl in pitiless mourning
At those who struggle below.
At those, who midst the morass
Of depression and degradation,
Seek hope, seek a way from
Stygian blackness, a way from
Gloom and anguish.
At those who midst their
Solitary black despair
Search, grope and ever hope
For what?

For peace on earth?
For eternal Life?
For self-satisfaction?
Or death's quick knife?

Man's puny mind,
The mind forever searching,
Cannot grasp the truth
'Midst his turmoil and haste.

It is before, it is behind,
Around, above and all about him;
In the things he does
And in those he loves
Will he find Truth and Eternity.

A FAREWELL TO ENGLAND

Not like a lover from his lass
Will I leave thee green England,
Nor with a heavy countenance
Nor weary heart nor shaking hand,
But uplifted by that knowledge sure
That when four summers all have gently passed
I may return to thee at last.

I am compelled to seek more learning
On distant shores from thine,
But, while soft bluebells blossom
And dark green ivy leaves entwine
I'll not forget thee, nor yet while
Swallows in summer madness dive and turn
And red leaves in Autumn's wind are churned.

So, till four years have quickly gone
 In Time's untiring way,
 Let us make haste - why tarry more?
 Let nothing more delay;
 But with one last and longing look
 On scenes that yet for me sweet memory spell,
 I'll bid my England fond farewell.

Macdonald College went to the polls on Wednesday, March 5th and cast their votes in the election of a new Students' Council, Vice-President, Men and Women's Residence Committee Presidents, Literary and Debating Society President and Men and Women's Athletic Association Presidents. Of the eligible 502 undergraduate voters 422 cast their votes at the polls giving an 84% attendance. Only 37% of the Post Graduates voted.

The following candidates were elected to the Executive.
Vice-Presidency of the Students' Council

Dorothy Hodgins	188
Margaret Tanton	121
Ann Winship	114

Since Dorothy Hodgins did not have the 50% majority necessary by constitution for election to this position a re-vote will be taken in the near future.

Kenneth McRae	155
Carl Willis	132

We wish to congratulate all those candidates who have been elected to the Executive.

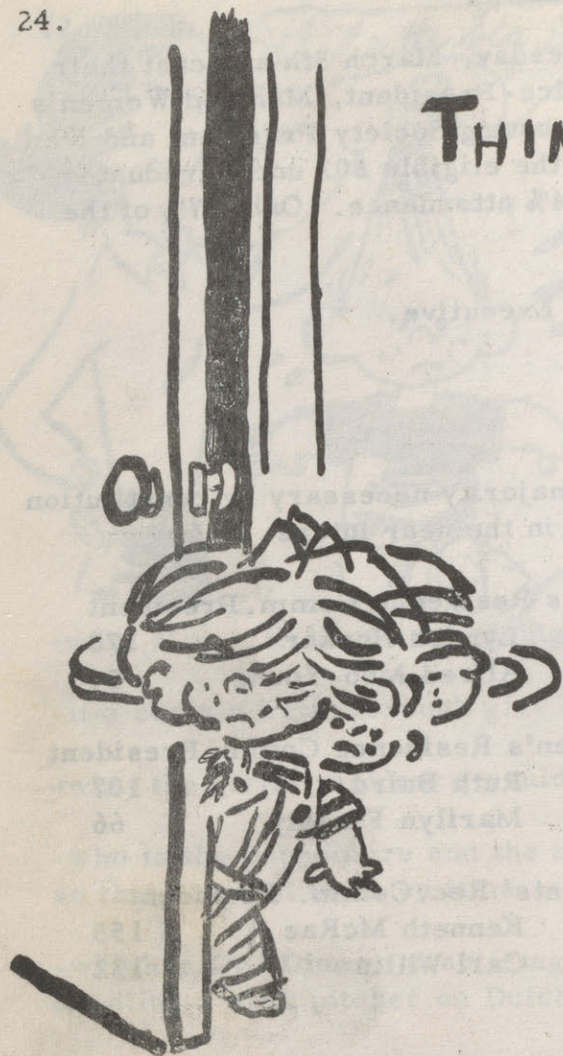

THE STUDENTS' STRIKE

On Wednesday Night a short meeting was held in the Men's Gym to decide what action would be taken concerning the protest strike on Thursday, March 6, 1958. It was decided that the commuter buses would not be interfered with, and that organized picketing without violence would be the most effective measure.

Early Thursday morning a group of students handed out leaflets in Ste. Anne's and on the highway. The general reaction of the public was favourable. On the highway the town police force informed those distributing pamphlets that it was illegal to halt traffic and subsequently students dispersed quietly. Later an attempt was made to continue distribution outside of the town lines.

We consider that the main object of the strike was fulfilled in distributing the pamphlets and in attracting public attention.
